POST DETAILS

Title:
Host and teach English to a foreign student in your home !

Description:
We are recruiting hosts who can offer a spare bedroom, 3 meals per day and the required lessons & activities to language students

Influent offers language courses to foreign students of all ages (children, teenagers, adults) and all levels (from beginner to advanced) who are looking for a language immersion experience living and studying in their tutor's home.

Students usually book 10h, 15h, 20h or 25h teaching per week and usually stay an average of two weeks

As well as language lessons many students also book general activities, cultural visits or options (such as business, professional & specialised vocabulary, exam preparation etc...).

Some students sometimes prefer to book only activities and no language lessons, there are many variations of the programme.

Hosting with Influent is not usually a full time job (although some hosts manage to have students staying most weeks of the year), and many find it ties in very well with ‘retirement,’ running their own business, working from home, being at home with young children or even just working a few weeks during holidays.

You choose when to host and who to host !
